

2026 annual report

what a year.

One year ago, we stepped into a new chapter as Quay Church with a clear mission: land in the hope of Jesus, launch into their God-given purpose, and live on mission for the glory of God. As I look back on this first year, I'm overwhelmed with gratitude for all God has done.

We've watched people walk through our doors for the first time and find a place to belong. We've celebrated people surrendering their lives to Jesus, being baptized, joining Crews, stepping into stewardship, and discovering the purpose God has placed on their lives. And we've seen our church live on mission, carrying the hope of Jesus into our city and around the world.

The pages of this report tell that story. Every number represents a person. Every baptism represents a changed life. Every Crew, gathering, ministry, and missions partnership represents people choosing to be part of what God is building through this House. And none of it happens without people like you faithfully bringing what God has placed in your hands.

As we celebrate all God has done in our first year, we're also looking ahead with expectation. Through Legacy, we are making room for the people who aren't here yet and preparing for what we believe God wants to do through Quay Church for generations to come.

Thank you for believing in the vision, bringing faithfully, serving this House, and living on mission. What an incredible first year it has been, and I believe we're only getting started.

In Christ,

land. launch. live.

At Quay Church, everything begins and ends with Jesus. Our mission is to help people land in the hope of Jesus, launch into their God-given purpose, and live on mission for the glory of God, creating a place where people can belong, discover how God has uniquely equipped them, and carry the hope of Jesus into their everyday lives.

We believe stewardship is our responsibility, bringing is our joy, excellence honors God, and worship is more than a moment on Sunday. It is the way we live. These convictions continue to shape the House we are becoming and the legacy we are building together.

bringing is our joy

At Quay Church, we believe bringing is more than a financial contribution. It is an act of worship and an opportunity to participate in what God is doing through His Church. During the fiscal year ending September 30, 2026, our church family faithfully brought nearly $8 million, reflecting the incredible generosity and commitment of those who call Quay home.

Every act of bringing helps create space for people to encounter Jesus, families to be strengthened, the next generation to grow in their faith, and the Gospel to reach beyond our walls.

Your generosity is making an eternal difference. As we look toward the future and all God has placed before us through Legacy, we are grateful for a church family that continues to bring faithfully and joyfully, believing that what God does through our obedience today can impact generations to come.

the impact of your bringing

Around the world, millions of people are still waiting to experience the Bible in the language they know best. Through our partnership with illumiNations, Quay Church is helping make that possible.

One Bible translation project had been paused for years due to a lack of funding, despite nine books of the New Testament already being translated. Through the generosity of churches and ministry partners, including Quay Church, that work is now moving forward again.

For the people who have already heard Scripture in their own language, the impact has been profound. And because of your faithful bringing, we're helping make it possible for even more people to hear, understand, and experience the life-changing truth of God's Word.

Your bringing is helping bring the hope of Jesus to people who have been waiting to hear it.

quay missions

As of press time, Quay's financial reporting for fiscal year 2025–2026 was complete through August 31, 2026. During that period, Quay Church invested $525,000 in missions through 24 partners and initiatives serving Central Florida and communities around the world.

Separate from these expenditures, Quay moved $262,500 from its operating account into the Missions Fund. These funds will support future missions partnerships and projects in addition to Quay's ongoing missions commitment through the annual operating budget. This gives Quay the ability to respond to new ministry opportunities and urgent needs as they arise.

how we focus our mission

our missions efforts focus on three priorities

Compassion: Meeting practical needs in Jesus' name.
Evangelism and church planting: Proclaiming the Gospel where it has not gone.
Education and leadership development: Equipping leaders to multiply the mission.

Our approach is rooted in Acts 1:8, where Jesus told His followers to be His witnesses "in Jerusalem, Judea and Samaria, and to the ends of the earth."

for quay, this framework describes both geography and access to the gospel

Jerusalem: Areas where the Church is strong and sending.
Judea and Samaria: Places where the Church is present but needs strengthening.
The ends of the earth: Regions where the Gospel is unreached or opposed and where believers face persecution.

This framework guides our strategy, giving, and prayers as we continue asking, Where is the Gospel most needed next?

extending the gospel across cultures

Quay partners with ministries around the world to bring the Gospel, Scripture, and practical support to communities where access remains limited. In South Asia, Quay gave $30,000 to Radical, where 445 people heard the Gospel, 95 received follow-up, six were born again, one was baptized, 55 participated in discipleship, eight churches were supported, and two new church plants began meeting regularly.

Quay also invested $28,000 in illumiNations, helping advance Scripture access for the approximately 2,873 language groups that still have limited or no access, including 494 without a single translated verse in the language they understand best. Through New Harvest Missions International, Quay provided $36,000 for church planting, pastor training, and community development in West Africa. We also supported the Esposito family through GlobalOne80 as they mobilize believers and help churches send missionaries from Argentina.

Additional partners included Otem Collective, East-West Ministries, Ten Million for Christ, and Cru. Otem currently reports 300 families strengthened, 2,470 children impacted, and 69 children reunited with family.

strengthening families and communities

Quay provided $50,000 in support and related expenses to Commission 127, which equips churches to surround foster, adoptive, and biological families with Care Teams and Response Teams. The ministry reports 50+ participating churches, 1,400+ volunteer orientations, and 360+ families connected with support.

Covered by Christ received $45,500 for construction and repair projects serving vulnerable families, churches, teachers, pastors, military families, and community servants.

Locally, Quay provided back-to-school backpacks for students at West Oaks Elementary, built beds through Sleep in Heavenly Peace, and supported 10 families through the Blessing Tree outreach.

Quay also provided $26,000 in vehicle and ministry support for Carolina Da Silva Lopez in Haiti and has supported Vastago Ministries and New Missions, which serve children and families through Christian education, churches, schools, and community care in Haiti and the Dominican Republic.

responding when disaster strikes

Quay gave $45,000 to Convoy of Hope for disaster relief in areas impacted by Hurricane Melissa, earthquakes in Venezuela and Colombia, and disasters in Nepal. An additional $10,000 supported Reach South Asia's church planting, leadership development, and disaster relief efforts.

welcoming the world in Orlando

Quay invested $15,000 in Agape Source to serve international workers, immigrants, and students in Orlando through hospitality, transportation, meals, and relationships that open doors for the Gospel. In December 2025, one international participant committed her life to Christ through these relationships.

planting churches

Quay invested $50,000 in Strategic Launch Network, which reports 90+ churches planted, 5,841 baptisms in 2025, and 64,000+ people in weekly attendance. Another $50,000 supported ARC, which reports 55 churches planted in 2025 and 1,215 churches planted since its beginning.

every gift sent with purpose

Every missions investment at Quay serves a purpose. From sharing the Gospel and planting churches to strengthening families, responding to disasters, and meeting practical needs, your generosity is making an impact in Central Florida and around the world.

This year, Quay directed more than half a million dollars toward missions, while setting aside additional resources for future partnerships. Together, we are helping local leaders and trusted ministry partners meet needs, build relationships, and carry the hope of Jesus into their communities.

"We will tell the next generation the praiseworthy deeds of the Lord, his power, and the wonders he has done... so the next generation would know them... Then they would put their trust in God and would not forget his deeds but would keep his commands."

quaykids is all about Jesus!

Every week, our Quay Kids team has the incredible privilege of partnering with families to help raise the next generation to know and love Jesus. From our youngest children through elementary age, every environment is intentionally designed to be a place where kids are welcomed with joy, experience genuine care, and discover the life-changing truth of God's Word.

Our Sunday experience is built around The Gospel Project, a chronological journey through the entire Bible that helps children see that every story points to Jesus. The excitement begins in Large Group, where energetic worship and engaging Bible teaching come together to create an atmosphere where kids are excited to learn about God and discover the hope found in Christ.

Led by a team of faithful, background-checked stewards who are passionate about investing in young lives, our Sunday classroom small group time gives children the opportunity to dig deeper into God's Word, ask questions and enjoy fun activities so they can grow in their understanding of what it means to follow Jesus every day.

Our heart's desire is that kids would walk out the doors from any of our gatherings knowing they are loved by the Quay Kids team, but more importantly by Jesus!

the impact of your bringing

When my children were young, my son had recently been diagnosed with autism. Going to church and knowing I could leave my kids with people who would keep them safe, love them, and care for my son with kindness gave me the opportunity to worship and be filled up during a season when I desperately needed it.

Years later, God has brought that story full circle. Now I get to be the Quay Kids steward welcoming children into the room and reassuring parents that their child is loved and belongs here. Recently, a dad brought his son to me and apologized because his son was on the spectrum. I was able to tell him, "Don't be sorry. Your kid is awesome. My kid is on the spectrum too."

Serving in Quay Kids is not work to me. It's a joy. God used people who faithfully served to care for my family when we needed it, and now He allows me to do the same for other families. I've learned that when you serve, you get more than you give.

This fall, Awana moved to Tuesday evenings as part of Family Discipleship Night at Quay Church. While parents are engaged in solid Bible teaching through our men's and women's Bible studies, kids are involved in Awana, a Bible-based club for ages two years through fifth grade. Through Scripture memory, games and small group time, kids are immersed in the Bible in a fun, engaging way. A small but significant change for 2026 is that our older elementary kids will be taught in a small group (or crew) model, meaning they can develop deep relationships with their leaders and their peers. Our prayer is that this will be a springboard for strong spiritual growth that will last long into their teen and adult years.

We welcomed nearly 1,000 people to our campus for three nights of lively worship, solid Bible teaching and pouring into our families. This unique event takes the traditions of Vacation Bible School and melds them into an event where everyone engages and learns for three nights of fun and growing in the Lord. The most amazing aspect of this event is that within our registrants, we have an almost even number of stewards, kids and parent attendees - it truly is an event for the entire family!

We're excited to welcome families back for Navigate 2027, happening June 7–9, 2027!

the impact of your bringing

Through Navigate, families are being equipped to grow in their faith together. For three nights, kids experience lively worship and biblical teaching while parents receive practical tools to help them lead their homes and raise their families to follow Jesus.

What makes Navigate so special is that the entire church comes together to invest in the next generation. Kids, parents, and stewards all play a part in creating an environment where families can grow closer to Jesus and to one another.

Your generosity helps make opportunities like Navigate possible, allowing us to intentionally pour into families and equip them to follow Jesus together.

This year, Wake Students became Quay Students, bringing our middle school and high school ministries under the Quay Church name. While the name has changed, the mission remains the same: helping students know Jesus, grow as disciples, and live on mission wherever God has placed them.

quay middle school

Quay Middle School continued to grow both spiritually and numerically this year. Students studied God's attributes, the parables of Jesus, the life of Paul, Psalm 23, Romans 12, apologetics, creation, and other foundational topics.

We also saw students taking meaningful steps in their faith, with more than 15 middle school baptisms at student gatherings and more than 100 Bibles given out throughout the school year. As the ministry continued to grow, The Wake Up (TWU) transitioned from an all-middle-school environment to Sixth Grade Sundays, creating intentional space specifically for sixth graders.

Quay High School exists to make Jesus known and help students become lifelong disciples who make disciples. Each Wednesday, students gather for worship, biblical teaching, and Crews where trusted leaders know them, pray for them, and walk alongside them.

This year, we continued to see students grow in their faith, build meaningful relationships, and discover that following Jesus is not limited to Wednesday nights. Students are being challenged to live out what they believe at school, at home, and in their everyday relationships.

PASSION CAMP

This summer, 170 students and 53 leaders traveled to Passion Camp for a week centered on worship, biblical teaching, community, and encountering Jesus. Throughout the week, students were challenged to surrender fully to Christ and take meaningful steps in their faith.

We celebrated 7 baptisms at camp, but the impact extended far beyond those moments. Students returned home with renewed faith, changed priorities, and a greater desire to live for Jesus.

We're already looking ahead to Passion Camp 2027, happening July 12–16! Registration opens November 27, 2026. We can't wait to see what God has in store for our students next summer, and we encourage every student to be part of this life-changing week!

the impact of your bringing

At Passion Camp, one high school student encountered Jesus in a way that changed the direction of his life. He arrived carrying patterns of sin and addiction that had begun to define him, but during the week, he surrendered those areas of his life to Christ.

He came home different. His priorities, conversations, and relationships began to change, and he started openly sharing with others how good it is to follow Jesus. What once defined his reputation is being replaced by a life increasingly defined by Christ.

His story reminds us why we create environments like Passion Camp. We can create the space, preach the Gospel, worship, pray, and surround students with leaders, but only Jesus can transform a life.

This year, Quay Students launched Student Ministry Shadows, giving high school students opportunities to serve and help lead the middle school ministry.

Students hosted games, helped lead Crews, served in worship, welcomed younger students, and even preached God's Word. Through these opportunities, students discovered their gifts, grew in confidence, and learned that God can use them right now.

One example is Ben Totten, who grew up in the student ministry from sixth grade through his senior year. Today, he serves as a Student Ministry intern, investing in the next generation. His story reflects what we pray for at Quay Students: disciples becoming disciple-makers.

QUAY Young Adults

Quay Young Adults has been a meaningful space for our young adults to grow in faith and build deeper community. Some of the stand out moments have been the more relaxed worship gatherings, including nights when the team shared the Word together from the living room setup on stage, and evenings when we gathered with Pastor Tevin Lucas to share and learn together. These moments created an atmosphere where faith, conversation and fellowship could happen naturally.

Our community has grown together, not just in numbers, but in depth of relationship with one another. There have been so many testimonies of young adults finding a community of faith for the very first time and discovering what it looks like to have fellowship with other young adults who follow Jesus.

For our first year of going through the summer, we gathered together after our gathering with food trucks, giving everyone an opportunity to sit together, get to know one another, and share stories of how they met Jesus. These simple moments of fellowship have helped strengthen the connections within our young adults community and remind us of the beauty of doing life and growing in faith together. We are grateful for all God is building through Quay Young Adults and are excited for what He has ahead for our community.

QYA Leadership Retreat

From August 6-8 we were able to take 21 young adults on a leadership retreat. This was an intentional time for our leaders to gather and reflect on what God is doing in and through Quay Young Adults. Due to the vast number of backgrounds many of our leaders come from, and work within, this is one of the few opportunities for them to connect on a deeper level. It was three days filled with worship, intentional teaching, and planning for what the future holds for us as a ministry.

Crews are small groups that gather each week in homes, restaurants, and coffee shops across our city, creating space for people to build meaningful relationships while growing closer to Jesus.

This fall, we rebranded and relaunched Crews with a renewed vision for community at Quay Church. With a fresh identity, updated systems, and strengthened leader training and onboarding, we're creating an even stronger foundation for people to find their people and grow in their faith.

Crews have always been an important part of the life of our church, creating connection and belonging beyond Sunday mornings. As Crews continue to grow, each one carries a unique heartbeat while helping the people of Quay live out the gospel in community throughout our city.

In just one semester, Crews grew by 76%, while the number of people connected in Crews grew by 168%. We are excited by how many people decided to step into leadership this fall, opening space in their homes and lives for others to find community. We are excited to see what the Lord continues to do through our Crews!

the impact of your bringing

When I was looking for a home church, one of the things I was longing for most was community and finding like-minded people who shared a love for Jesus and a desire to grow in their faith. Through conversations with stewards of Quay Church, I was able to connect with Corey and Josh, and I'm so grateful for the way God led me to Crew. Being part of this discipleship group has been such a blessing, as Corey and Josh have helped keep me accountable in reading the Word, pursuing purity, and growing in my walk with Christ. They've also been there for me when I've needed encouragement, and I hope I've been able to do the same for them. Crew has reminded me that following Jesus was never meant to be done alone, and I'm truly grateful for the way God has used this group in my life.

- Rheijan Villegas

A few months after moving to the area from Bogotá, Colombia and beginning to attend Quay Church, we joined a crew of other young couples. We didn't know it then, but that same crew would laugh, pray, and cry with us as we navigated job loss, miscarriage, and the miracles in between. We can't imagine how much harder those seasons would've been had we not had the community we found in our Crew, who would be the arms and feet of Jesus in our lives. The Church is and will always be our favorite place in the world, no matter what part of the globe we find ourselves. And it's only through Crews where you realize that church isn't the building you visit on Sundays but the people who walk alongside each other both on this side and the other side of eternity. Crews turn a church into a home.

Quay Women exists to help women know Jesus more deeply, grow in His Word, and build authentic, Christ-centered community. Through Bible studies, discipleship, worship gatherings, and opportunities to serve, our desire is to equip women to mature in their faith, cultivate meaningful friendships, and live out their God-given calling within the church and beyond.

This year, we continued to see God faithfully work as women from every generation gathered to study Scripture, encourage one another, and grow together in Christ. Weekly Bible studies provided spaces where women could ask honest questions, be rooted in biblical truth, and experience the joy of walking alongside one another in every season of life.

Because of your generosity, Quay Women continues to be a place where women find belonging, deepen their faith, and discover opportunities to serve both the church and our community. As we look ahead, our prayer remains the same: that every woman who walks through the doors of Quay Church would encounter Jesus, be shaped by His Word, and find a place to belong, grow, and serve.

The Harbor

This year, The Harbor welcomed over 550 women for an incredible evening of worship, biblical teaching, and community. We had the privilege of welcoming guest speaker Gloria Umanah, who brought a powerful message of faith and encouragement, challenging women to grow deeper in their relationship with Jesus. More than just an event, The Harbor created space for women of all ages and stages of life to connect, be encouraged, and be reminded that they are not walking through life alone.

We're already looking forward to our next Harbor gathering in Fall 2027! Be on the lookout for more details as we prepare for another incredible evening of worship, encouragement, and community.

"MomLife has become a community that truly fills my cup—one of friendship, encouragement, and women walking faithfully together through both joyful and difficult seasons. The mentor moms have loved, prayed for, and poured into me in ways they may never fully realize, and through them I have experienced Christ's love in a deeply personal way. The spiritual impact this group has had on my life is something I will always treasure. I'm incredibly thankful to be part of a community that so beautifully reflects the heart of Christ."

Quay Men is a movement of authentic men passionate about becoming Jesus-following, Spirit-led servant leaders in our homes, neighborhoods, and workplaces for the Kingdom. Our mission is to ignite a passion in men to experience the joy of doing life together—deepening our communion with Jesus and building strong community with His followers.

With over 175 men gathering weekly across three days and over 500 attending our spring Kingsmen event, momentum is building! Men of all ages and stages are stepping up and locking arms to live the courageous, Kingdom-driven life God created us for.

the impact of your bringing

Through your generosity, Rick experienced a life-altering transformation this year. Previously struggling with addiction, doubt, and years of estrangement from his son, his trajectory completely shifted when a brother invited him into a men's group. There, his group leader led him to Christ—resulting in his baptism and giving him the courage to restore his relationship with his son. Today, Rick is charging forward with a deep commitment to Jesus, Quay Church, and the Men's Ministry, profoundly thankful for an authentic space to encounter God and build real community.

This year, Kingsmen created two intentional opportunities for the men of Quay Church to come together, build community, and be challenged to become the men God is calling them to be.

In March, more than 500 men gathered to hear from Johnny Baker of Celebrate Recovery, who encouraged them to pursue lives marked by faith, honesty, and purpose.

In September, over 430 men came together as we welcomed NFL player Jeff Driskel, former NFL players Jarrad Davis and Justin Armour, and NFL Chaplain Reza Zadeh for a night centered on the values that shape us as husbands, fathers, friends, and followers of Jesus.

Through Kingsmen, men across generations are growing in their faith, strengthening one another, and learning to lead well in every area of life. We're looking forward to our next Kingsmen gathering on April 30, 2027!

Being a Steward at Quay Church is more than simply filling a role. It's empowering people to align their gifts, passions, and abilities with God's calling on their lives. It takes hundreds of Stewards using their unique gifts , passions, and abilities to bring Quay Church to life. Across every ministry—from Next Gen and Worship to Crews and Guest Services, our Stewards make an ongoing, life-changing impact on our community.

"Serving as a steward at Quay Church has truly changed my life. It is an honor to faithfully serve God while joyfully serving others, and along the way, I have met the most amazing people. I have learned that the simplest interactions can have the most lasting impact; you just might be the reason someone feels seen, welcomed, and decides to come back. What we do truly matters; people may not always remember what we said or did, but they will always remember how we made them feel."

Belong is our first step in learning the heart behind the mission at Quay Church, and what our core beliefs are. Serve has been our second step in helping attendees align their natural abilities and interests with their spiritual gifts to find a place in stewarding the mission here at Quay.

Baptism is another part of our Next Steps Sunday curriculum, although in no particular order. As of August 2026, we've seen 167 people take the next step of proclaiming their faith to the world through baptism. And we have more to come with a Foundations class coming soon!

Having a clear pathway to connection has been a game changer in people finding a home here at Quay Church. We've had strangers become friends at Belong, return to attend Serve together, and enjoy being stewards together weekly.

(Family Advocacy Ministry)

Family Advocacy Ministry, or FAM, exists to show the love of Jesus by surrounding local foster, adoptive, and kinship families with practical support and meaningful community.

Through Care Community Teams, Quay Church stewards come alongside these families with meals, childcare, transportation, household help, and prayer. By providing consistent support, we help families navigate the unique demands of caring for vulnerable children while reminding them they do not have to walk through it alone.

Since FAM began at Quay Church in October 2022, eight local families have been supported by fifty-two Quay Church stewards. This year, seven Care Community Teams served families caring for twenty-three children throughout our community.

Our heart is to continue building teams, strengthening the families we already serve, and creating opportunities for more people at Quay to make a difference in the lives of vulnerable children and the families caring for them.

Not everyone can foster, but everyone can care.

the impact of your bringing

When Bri Keany said yes to becoming a foster parent, she quickly learned she wouldn't be walking the journey alone. When two siblings, a newborn and a five-year-old, were placed in her care, the people of Quay Church surrounded their new family with meals, childcare, counseling support, prayer, and encouragement.

What began as foster care eventually became a forever family through adoption. Bri's story is a beautiful picture of what can happen when the Church comes together and each person simply says yes to the part God has given them to play.

QUAYWORSHIP

Quay Worship is a collective that exists to exalt Jesus and unlock new expressions of worship for the global Church. It's our hope that those who listen are able to unload their burdens, be filled with the peace and presence of Jesus and be encouraged to pursue their mission with purpose.

This year has been a significant year of growth for Quay Worship. We've watched songs born in our church move beyond our own gatherings and find their way into churches across the country, giving us the opportunity to serve the Church far beyond our own walls. We hosted more writing camps than ever before, creating a deep catalog of songs and giving our writers space to grow, collaborate, and create together. That season of writing ultimately led us to Anthem Night, where we recorded our first full-length album surrounded by our church family. In 2026, Quay Worship released eight new songs, with several already receiving placement on editorial playlists and Quay Worship being recognized by the Gospel Music Association as an up-and-coming worship artist. What began as a desire to write songs for our house is becoming an opportunity to put songs in the hands of the Church, and we're grateful for what God is doing through it.

summer nights

This summer, we created Summer Nights at Quay, turning our 5p gathering into an opportunity for families and friends to spend the evening together. Following worship and teaching, the night continued outside with food trucks, games, and plenty of space to connect and build community.

While our weekly 5p gathering has concluded, we loved what Sunday nights created for our church family. We're excited to bring Sunday nights back, creating more opportunities throughout the year to gather, connect, and enjoy time together.

baptism sunday

This year, we celebrated a special Baptism Sunday, watching 58 people publicly declare their faith in Jesus through baptism.

What began with people already prepared to take their next step became something even greater as 29 people made the spontaneous decision that day to be baptized. One by one, people stepped forward in faith, surrounded by a church family ready to celebrate with them.

Baptism Sunday was a powerful reminder that God is moving in the House, lives are being changed, and the best response to Jesus is always yes.

anthem night

This year, we introduced Anthem Night, a new opportunity for our entire church to gather for a night devoted to worship and prayer.

Our first Anthem Night became an especially significant moment in the story of our House as Quay Worship recorded its first-ever live album surrounded by the people who call Quay Church home. Together, we filled the room with songs born from our House and captured a moment that will now be shared far beyond it.

Anthem Night is just the beginning, and we can't wait for the moments of worship still ahead.

tuesday family night

This year, we introduced Family Night, bringing Awana together with our Men's and Women's Bible Studies on Tuesday nights to create one intentional night for the entire family to grow in God's Word.

While kids learn and grow through Awana, men and women are being poured into through Bible study, allowing every generation to grow in their faith at the same time. The response has been incredible, with more than 600 people gathering across these ministries each Tuesday night.

LEGACY

Building for Generations to Come

Quay Church exists today because faithful people came before us, people who prayed, gave generously and trusted God with a future they could not yet see. Their obedience created a place where generations have encountered Jesus, grown in community and discovered their purpose. Now it is our turn to build on that foundation.

The Legacy Campaign is an invitation for every person who calls Quay Church home to help prepare for what God will do in the years ahead. It is about more than constructing a building. It is about making room for people to worship, belong and grow—and ensuring that future generations have a place to experience the life-changing hope of the gospel.

stepping into legacy

On September 13, Pastor Luke cast the vision for Legacy and invited our church family to prayerfully consider the part each of us can play. On October 18, we stepped into the Legacy Collection of Conversations, creating space to explore the heart behind the campaign and what it means for the future of Quay Church.

Then, on November 15, we came together for Commitment Sunday—a meaningful moment when individuals and families responded in faith and committed to helping make this vision possible.

Our desire is for everyone who calls Quay Church home to participate. Legacy is not about equal gifts; it is about each of us praying, listening and responding to what God asks us to do. No amount is too small, and every act of generosity matters.

making room for what God is doing

God continues to grow the Quay Church family. With four Sunday gathering times, full midweek ministries and a rapidly growing community surrounding us, our current facilities are being used to their limits.

Parking can be difficult for families arriving on Sundays. Quay Kids environments are stretched. Fellowship often spills into crowded areas because there is not enough room for people to remain together after a gathering. Throughout the week, nearly every available space is used for ministry.

These are good challenges to have, but they are also challenges we must address. We do not want a lack of space to become an obstacle for anyone seeking Jesus or looking for a church home. We want Quay Church to be a place where people can stay—not simply attend.

a vision for the future

Through Legacy, we plan to construct a new worship center with seating for approximately 1,800 to 2,000 people. The facility will include a welcoming lobby, adult classrooms and a centralized family check-in area designed to better serve families and improve the Sunday experience.

The campaign will also allow us to renovate and expand our Quay Kids environments, creating engaging, age-appropriate spaces with improved entrances, traffic flow and security. After the congregation has fully transitioned into the new worship center, our current auditorium is planned to become a large gathering space serving Quay Students in a future phase.

Parking capacity will be expanded by paving the current grass parking area and improving access and traffic flow throughout the property. The campaign also includes retiring approximately $2 million in debt remaining from the original construction of our current facilities in 2010. Eliminating that debt will free more resources for ministry and future growth.

Visioneering Studios, an experienced architecture firm based in Dallas, is partnering with us to help bring this vision to life.

people, not walls

The financial goal for Legacy is $35 million, but the heart of the campaign is much bigger than a number. It is about people joining together in faith to invest in what God will do through Quay Church for generations to come.

Some may ask why we should build instead of simply focusing on ministry. The answer is that the building is a tool for ministry. Its purpose is to create room for lives to be changed, families to find community and people to discover and live the mission God has given them. Our focus will always remain on people, not walls.

Legacy will not replace our commitment to missions or our local ministry partners. The Legacy building fund is separate from Quay Church's regular ministry budget, so ongoing weekly bringing will continue to support ministry as usual. Over time, expanded facilities will strengthen that work by helping us equip, mobilize and send more people to serve both locally and around the world.

our moment to step forward

The goal is not to become a large church simply for the sake of size. The goal is to remain faithful to every person God brings through our doors and to disciple them well.

We believe God has entrusted this property and this moment to us. As we listen for His direction, pray together and move forward in unity, we have an opportunity to invest in something that will outlast us.

The generations before us stepped forward in faith. Through Legacy, we can do the same—creating a place where people encounter Jesus, families grow stronger, neighbors hear the gospel and generations to come discover that someone was thinking and praying for them long before they arrived.

communication

creating clearer connections

This year, we continued finding new ways to help people stay connected to everything happening at Quay Church, both on Sundays and throughout the week.

We introduced video announcements at the beginning of each gathering, creating a consistent and engaging way to share important next steps with our church family. We also added Overflow Tap in the main auditorium, making it easier for people to access information, register for events, and take their next step right from their seat.

Beyond Sunday mornings, our digital communication continues to connect thousands of people through text, email, and social media. Whether someone is attending for the first time, looking for a place to belong, or staying connected throughout the week, our goal is to make their next step clear and accessible.

social media

This year, our social media platforms continued to grow as a way to share what God is doing at Quay Church far beyond our campus. Through worship moments, teaching, stories, and glimpses into the life of our church, we are able to encourage and connect with thousands of people throughout the week.

Our Instagram community grew from just over 11,000 to more than 28,000 followers, while Facebook and YouTube also continued to reach new people. Every follow, view, and share represents another opportunity for someone to encounter Jesus, engage with biblical truth, and discover what God is doing through Quay Church.

how we steward what God entrusts to us

The 2026–2027 ministry budget outlined below has been prayerfully reviewed and approved by our Elder Team, consisting of Pastor Luke Lezon, Steven Grimes, David Rice, Travis Brown, Steve Tanaka, and Felipe Ferreira. This budget reflects our commitment to stewarding the resources God has entrusted to Quay Church with wisdom, accountability, and a focus on advancing His Kingdom.

Every dollar brought to Quay Church helps advance our mission of seeing people land in the hope of Jesus, launch into their God-given purpose, and live on mission for the glory of God. Our annual ministry budget reflects our commitment to faithfully steward these resources by investing in people, creating environments for spiritual growth, caring for our church family, and sharing the Gospel throughout Central Florida and beyond.
